BEST THING TO DO IN DAYLESFORD

BOUTIQUE GALLERIES

There's a number of galleries to explore in Daylesford, many attached to working studios. Don't leave without checking out The Convent Gallery. Established in 1991, it exhibits both contemporary and traditional artwork. See also Stony Creek, Black Gallery

MARKETS

Like all good country towns, Daylesford has a few markets up its sleeve. Daylesford Sunday Market - Up to 130 stalls a week, free parking and dog friendly. On the fourth Saturday of each month, Daylesford Primary School plays host to the town's farmer's market, where you'll find fresh local produce and ready-to-eat food, plus coffee, wine, arts and Crafts.

PARKS

Daylesford and its surrounds are not short on manicured gardens and parks. Go for a stroll around the Wombat Hill Botanical Gardens, perched on the summit of an extinct volcano, where you can grab great views over the town and the surrounding countryside from the Pioneers Lookout Tower, or indulge in some killer pastries at Wombat Hill House Cafe. Or soak up the serenity at Lake Daylesford, a wonderfully scenic spot with a playground, picnicking areas and even paddle boats for hire.

HOT SPRINGS AND DAY SPAS

The twin spa towns of Hepburn Springs and Daylesford hold plenty of promise for those looking to unwind. Hepburn Bathhouse and Spa not only draws mineral-rich waters directly from the (natural) source, but its vast, considered complex is the picture of serenity and integrates beautifully with the surrounding bushland.
